

HT INTERCESSIONS
Advent 1 30th December 2014

The response to “Maranatha”, is “Come Lord, Come”, said with meaning and excitement.

Almighty God, the day draws near, when the glory of your Son, will make radiant, the night of the waiting world.

Heavenly Father, at this Advent-tide, as we wait with increased anticipation, strengthen and guide our Archbishop, our Bishop, our Archdeacon and our clergy. Bless the ministries of our priests, Toby, Neil and Alistair, and all those ordained and lay people, who support them in their work. Grant to them all, wisdom and patience, tolerance and understanding, as they seek to reunite the opposers and the dissenters, to work with other churches, and to spread the Good News of Christ’s coming, throughout the community.

“Lord, bestow on them, the blessing of your wisdom, the patience of your strength, and the life of your spirit.”

Maranatha,
Come Lord, come

Heavenly Father, at this Advent-tide, help us, as seekers after your truth, to use this time of waiting, and looking forward, to assess our own lives. We all fall short of your example in Jesus, by petty jealousies, by gossip and dissention, by meanness and ignorance of the facts, and by misuse of power, all of which are against Jesus’ commandment, to “Love one another”.

*“Forgive us, O Lord, wherein we have wasted our time, or misused our gifts.
Forgive us, wherein we have excused our own wrong-doing, or evaded our responsibilities.*

Forgive us, that we have been unwilling to overcome evil with good.

Forgive us, wherein we have cherished the things that divide us from others.

And forgive us, wherein we have been thoughtless in our judgements, hasty in condemnation, and grudging in forgiveness.”

Maranatha,
Come Lord, come

Heavenly Father, at this Advent-tide, when the commercial world is determined to plunge us deeper into debt, we pray for those, who are affected by the World's economic problems, the unemployed, the destitute, and those carrying crippling debts and cannot see a way out.

Draw our attention afresh, to the plight, of a third of this World's people, who live below subsistence level.

Help us to understand why so many of those people, are prepared to risk their lives to reach the prosperous West. Lord, teach us tolerance and understanding, when discussing immigration.

We pray for the thousands in our own Country, who are used, the abused, the trafficked, and the enslaved. Be with them in their distress, and give them hope. We think of the ordinary people in war-torn countries, who live in terror of oppressive regimes, who have lost their homes and livelihoods.

Help us too, to appreciate the strength of the faith, of the 100 million Christians around the world, who are persecuted daily for what they believe.

Bless and guide the rulers of the nations, and all in authority at all levels. Direct them in the ways of justice, of truth, and of reconciliation, that we may all learn to honour one another, and to seek the common good.

“Heavenly Father, may the lure of greed, not impede us from that joy, which moves the hearts of those who await the coming of your Son. May the darkness not blind us to the vision of wisdom, which fills the minds of those who find Him.”

Maranatha,
Come Lord, come.

Heavenly Father, at this Advent-tide, we pray for your blessing on the members of our families, wherever they may be around the world, on our friends, on our neighbours, and on this congregation. May this time of looking forward, be healthy, refreshing, exciting, uniting and re-uniting.

Be with those, for whom this is not a happy time; those who will inevitably remember past sorrows, family break downs, or bereavements. Help them to remember the good and positive aspects of their lives, and grant them peace of mind.

Heavenly Father, at this Advent-tide, we pray that your healing spirit, will fall on those known to us, who are in any way dis-eased, whether in body, or mind or spirit; Particularly today, we pray for: Carol Stone, priest..... and for all those who need our prayers, our support, and your blessing.

Heavenly Father, grant final peace to those who have died. (Particularly today, we pray for

May their souls rest in peace, and rise in glory.

And grant peace to those left behind, who mourn for a loved one, but rejoice for a life.

(Silence)

Maranatha,
Come Lord, come.

Let us re-dedicate ourselves afresh, to the unification of the Kingdom of God here on Earth, and its witness to the people in this community.

“Heavenly Father, at this Advent-tide, we pray that when your Son - our Lord Jesus, comes, He may find us prepared, and ready to receive Him.”

Merciful Father,
Accept these prayers,
For the sake of your Son,
Our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen
